EXPLANATIONS

Roman numerals indicate the number of the volume and Arabic numerals the number of the page.

Names in the SELA headquarter's page, committee reports, announcements, and such, were omitted. All names in Marginalia and Varia were indexed in full.

Cross references were used wherever the text indicated the need. However, many possible cross references were omitted to save space.

Subject headings were assigned to a few of the major articles. When subject and title were the same, the title was used because of the fuller information. Some separate subject headings, such as editorial announcements, awards, deaths, etc., were not listed but entry was made under the name to which each applied, e.g., Wyman, Alice, necrology.

Abbreviations were used in some cases but were omitted wherever the statement would not clear. The most used abbreviations are:

ALA, American Library Association	educ., education
ACRL, Association of College and Research Libraries	eng., engineering
SELA, Southeastern Library Association	grad., graduate
SLA, Special Libraries Association	hdqts., headquarters
agric., agriculture or agricultural	lib., library
